ROAD SCHOLAR ANNOUNCES TOP LEARNING ADVENTURES FOR SOLO TRAVELERS

BOSTON (February 28, 2019) – As the global solo traveler trend continues to grow, not-for-profit Road Scholar welcomed thousands of new solo travelers on its learning adventures in 2018. In 2019, the organization expects even more solo travelers that will be among the more than 100,000 participants who will explore the world, experience new cultures, nurture new friendships, and discover or rediscover a new passion on a learning adventure.

Solo travelers are drawn to Road Scholar’s educational travel for several reasons:

- A famously warm and welcoming atmosphere
- 90+ programs designed specifically for solo travelers
- Roommate matching options available on many programs to reduce cost
- Special offers for solo travelers

“Road Scholar programs are renowned for offering enriching programs for all lifelong learners, and solo travelers — especially solo female travelers — have a special affinity for our unique brand of learning adventures,” said James Moses, President and CEO of Road Scholar. “Whether enrolling as a solo traveler, as a couple, or with a group of friends, everyone who participates in a Road Scholar program returns home with a new set of friends, enriched by their shared experiences.”

The organization recently announced its new solo traveler-friendly floating classroom aboard the 350-passenger Aegean Odyssey. Eighty cabins have been allocated for solo travelers. To learn more, visit: <https://www.roadscholar.org/aegean-odyssey>
